

LUCKY JEFFERSON

PUBLIC RELATIONS INTERNSHIP

Public Relations Interns receive hands-on practical experience in managing partnerships, media visibility, and community advocacy for a small literary journal. Interns are encouraged to explore list-building, copy-editing, review and interview management, and the support of emerging writers.

WHO WE LOOK FOR:

High School, Undergraduate, or Graduate students who have a passion for writing, literature, and all things poetry; students who are interested in gaining experience early on and want to learn how to creatively support and cultivate partnerships while exploring emerging topics in publishing.

WHAT YOU'LL BE DOING:

- Develop copy for media outreach and assist with list and partnership-building
- Prepare public relations strategies and media kits
- Oversee and curate monthly emails
- Support emerging authors
- Maintain editorial processes, guidelines, and style guides

WHAT YOU'LL EARN:

- College Credit
- Experience in editing and managing media relations for a growing publisher

INTERNSHIP DURATION:

2-3 months

IF THIS IS YOUR DREAM:

Please send a resume and 2-3 writing samples—press release, e-blasts, etc.—(a link to your website is perfect too) that you are proud of sharing to luckyjeffersonlit@gmail.com.

Take a tour of our website to make sure you are familiar with our work & can see yourself a part of it.

Note this internship is REMOTE (meaning you can work from anywhere).
